OWNERSHIP BY STATE SEEMS TENDENCY NOW

Resolution Is Introduced to Provide for Investigating Practicability of a Printing Plant.

BILLS ARE ENORMOUS

A Special Committee Is Now Looking Into the Matter of State-Owned Cement Works.

By a Staff Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 25.—The tendency of the present session of the Legislature, especially in the house, seems to be directed towards state ownership. A special committee headed by John C. Dyott has been busy for the last week investigating the practicability of a state owned cement plant. Yesterday D. L. Bales of Shannon County introduced a resolution which authorizes the speaker of the house to appoint a special committee to investigate the feasibility of a state owned printing plant. The resolution came, as one representative remarked from the floor, "like a bolt out of the blue." The original resolution passed by a standing vote of 91 to 19 after a spirited debate in which efforts were made to refer it to the committee on printing.

The resolution says that the state printing bills under the present contracts with private parties are enormous and that efforts to fix responsibility are often unavailing. It empowers the speaker to appoint a special committee of five members whose duty it will be to investigate the practicability of establishing such a plant, of printing the school books now used in Missouri and investigating the copyrights on such books. If the report of the committee is favorable the members of the committee would prepare and introduce a bill providing for the plant.

Fred L. Duncan of Davies County spoke against the resolution and asked that it be voted down. He predicted a dismal failure for a state printing plant and cited the incident two years ago when the state went into the restaurant business and provided a cafe in the capitol. When the session closed the table and silver were missing.

J. C. Morgan, floor leader of the house, stated that all of the states that had tried out the plan, only two owned printing plants at present and he doubted if it would be a saving for Missouri.

Frank Brooks, according to his confession, the police say, served terms in the Kansas and Texas state penitentiaries and in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. All of the men have admitted being party to numerous recent cases of burglary in the West.

HILL ISSUES STATEMENT

Says Clark's Letter Had Nothing to Do With Dismissal.

The following statement was issued today by President A. Ross Hill in regard to the request of Prof. George L. Clark, who was dismissed from the faculty of the School of Law, for a reconsideration of his case by the Board of Curators:

"On Friday last I was called over long distance by the Post-Dispatch and given a summary of Prof. George L. Clark's statement. I declined to make any comment by telephone except to state that his dismissal was recommended by the Dean of the Law Faculty and the President. Last night I read his statement as published in Sunday's Post-Dispatch although his letter to the Board of Curators had not reached the Secretary of the Board.

"Of course the dismissal was the action of the Board of Curators, but it was only as recommended by the Dean of the Law Faculty and it also met with the approval of the entire Law Faculty.

"The request for reconsideration will also have to be considered by the Board of Curators, but it may be here noted that Professor Clark's published statement is not of a character to inspire confidence, for aside from the fact of his dismissal I can find no element of truth in it. For instance, the letter of June, 1919, to which he refers was not supposed to be confidential but I never saw it, and it had nothing to do with his dismissal. Similarly, the ten faculty members referred to came out of a spirit of loyalty to the University to report certain absurdly false rumors that were afloat, with which Professor Clark had no connection, and to offer their cooperation, not to demand reforms."

The primary use of the horses will be in an equitation course for artillery students. Such students will have the privilege of using the horses during week-ends.

DISCUSSED CARIBBEAN POLICY

Professor Stephens Explained Wilson's Position to Polity Society.

Prof. F. F. Stephens reviewed cases of American interference with different nations in the Caribbean such as Haiti, Honduras, Santo Domingo, and Nicaragua, in his lecture which he delivered before the International Polity Society at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Professor Stephens told of President Wilson's foreign policy toward these nations.

"In some cases," he said, "the administration refused to recognize a government established through a revolution, and in other cases a revolutionary defect to government was given immediate recognition."

Professor Stephens explained, however, the difficulty of adhering to a definite policy in regard to these states. He also explained President Wilson's attitude in regard to his Caribbean policy on the grounds of his greater activity in European affairs.

After Professor Stephens had concluded his lecture the members of the Polity Society held a short discussion on President Wilson's Caribbean policy.

AN ADVENTUROUS PROFESSOR

Christian College Records Fail to Substantiate One Claim.

"Prof." J. H. Rayhill, who claims to be a veteran of the Crimean and Civil wars, and who says that he taught education at Christian College here, has taken a position as watchman at the Illinois state capitol. Records of Christian College, however, do not show that he ever taught here.

"Professor" Rayhill said that he had been a scout for the Eighth Missouri volunteer infantry regiment of the federal army. He says that he was wounded in the battle of Inkerman in the Crimea, and that he was restored to health by Miss Florence Nightingale. When he was 16 years old, he witnessed from afar the charge of Lord Cardigan's "light brigade."

During the Civil War he trained troops in Chicago, and then he says he went into the Eighth Missouri infantry. He was at Vicksburg with the Sixty-seventh Illinois volunteer infantry. After the Civil war he says he taught education in colleges in Virginia, North Carolina, Texas, Missouri and Illinois. He claims that while at Davidson, N. C., he had President Wilson as one of his pupils. At Gainesville, S. C., he claims to have had Richard P. Hobson as a pupil. Later on he said, he taught at Christian College in Columbia, Illinois College, Illinois Women's College, Athens University at Jacksonville, Ill., and at Eureka College at Eureka, Ill.

CADY TO MANAGE ORCHESTRA

St. Joseph Man Took Charge of Hall Theater Music Yesterday.

Mr. Cady has been in band and orchestra work since childhood, his first musical experience dating from membership in his home town band as drummer at the age of twelve. Later he studied violin, cornet, musical history and harmony at the Olivet College Conservatory in Olivet, Mich. He also enjoyed the opportunity for further study with W. D. Pryor, solo cornetist of Arthur Pryor's band, and Victorius Madrosk, director of the violin department of the Belmont College at Nashville, Tenn. Previous to his arrival in this city Sunday, Mr. Cady conducted a theater orchestra in Mason City, Iowa. He also taught band and orchestra instruments in that city.

WANTS LARGER MEMBERSHIP

Missouri Farm Bureau Federation Adopts Program for 1921.

"No radical changes were made at the annual meeting of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation," said A. J. Meyer, secretary, today. "The meeting did, however, place the federation back of the program of work previously made. The delegates are going back to their counties feeling that the work of the federation is their job and not one for the men on the executive committee."

"The meeting has done what any similar meeting should do, crystallize sentiment so that the widely scattered members have the same ideas as the central officers."

The program for the year includes organization, finance, legal advice or recommendation, legislation, publicity and marketing. Plans are under way for enlarging the membership by getting those countries to join which are not members and getting a larger membership where the county does belong to the federation. Sixty-four counties at present belong to the organization.

TO REGULATE HOTEL RATES

Bill in Legislature Would Require Filing of Tariffs.

By a Staff Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 24.—It will be the duty of every hotel keeper in the state, having more than ten boarders or roomers to file with the hotel inspector of the state a written or printed statement of an intended change in rates, six days before such change is made, if a bill introduced by Representative Dick Dale of Ray County is passed.

Mr. Dale said his motive in introducing the measure was to dampen the ardor of hotel keepers who hide their time until a convention or something of that nature, drawing a crowd, comes to town and then hike the rates. A similar bill has been introduced in the senate.
